

---

Extra Homework

Posted by christinemagoo - 2009/05/23 20:40

---

Does anyone know a budget friendly way to do some extra homework with the kids? Tutors are so expensive... just looking for alternatives.

=====

Re:Extra Homework

Posted by joanne@georgesons.net - 2009/05/24 14:25

---

How old are your kids? We subscribe to www.readingeggs.com.au for our six year old daughter and she loves getting on line and doing her reading. You do have to pay for it but it's not too expensive.

She also has access to a program through school called www.mathletics.com.au - does your school use that program?

As for other hints and ideas, our school puts information into our online newsletter so check out www.coomeraspringsss.eq.edu.au and click on the newsletter link, there are things about Literacy, Numberacy, Weights and Measures etc in nearly every newsletter that has been published this year.

=====

Re:Extra Homework

Posted by Maine girl - 2009/09/04 10:29

---

I saw a good tip for free online homework sites at Pennypinchinghints.com. You may want to look at it.

=====

Re:Extra Homework

Posted by Maine girl - 2009/09/04 10:29

---

I saw a good tip for free online homework sites at Pennypinchinghints.com. You may want to look at it.

=====

Re:Extra Homework

Posted by Maine girl - 2009/09/04 10:36

---

I saw a good tip for free online homework sites at Pennypinchinghints.com. You may want to look at it.

=====